IF YOU SUSPECT IT, REPORT IT

Taxi drivers may see something they think is suspect as they continue to provide London with its renowned taxi service. Trust your instincts: it could disrupt terrorist planning and save lives. Terrorists won't succeed if suspicious activity is reported by members of the public, and that somebody could be you.

Report any unusual activity or behaviour to the confidential Anti-Terrorist Hotline on 0800 789 321.

Mayor Ken Livingstone has reiterated the need for vigilance and co-operation with the emergency services. He said: "The discovery of two potential car bombs in central London means we face a very real threat of terrorist attack at this moment in time. It is imperative that all Londoners are vigilant and provide any information at all which may have any possible relevance to the Metropolitan Police immediately."
